

Support K-12 Students Amid Escalated Immigration Enforcement Concerns

The School Counselor's Role

schoolcounselor.org/support

Intensified immigration enforcement can negatively affect:

- Attendance and engagement in learning
- Student well-being and sense of safety
- Family trust and participation in schools
- Overall school climate

What School Counselors Can Do

Promote a Sense of Safety and Stability at School

- Collaborate with school staff to ensure school is a welcoming and safe environment
- Educate staff about how fear and uncertainty may affect student behavior
- Provide crisis response resources as needed

Provide Direct Student Support

- Provide individual and small-group support for students experiencing stress, anxiety, grief or fear related to instability
- Validate emotional responses
- Teach learning strategies, self-management skills and social skills
- Monitor learning, attendance and behaviors

Use Data to Demonstrate Educational Impact

- Track trends in achievement, attendance and discipline
- Share patterns with education partners to inform decision-making

Understand School and District Protocols

- Request clear protocols for staff response to inquiries or visits from immigration enforcement
- Elevate concerns through established school or district channels

Urge federal, state and local leaders to uphold policies that protect all children and ensure families can participate fully in their schools and communities without fear.
